

Harry and Harriet's Hang-gliding Haven:

Customer Testimonials

Clark Kent: "The first time I visited Harry and Harriet's, I was welcomed with the warmest of smiles. They helped walk me through the entire process, all the safety training, and made sure I felt safe and secure the entire time. Even though I'm very nervous with heights, they were very supportive which allowed me to really enjoy my first skydiving experience."

Sky level: Novice

Alexandria Bold: "I'm extremely adventurous and love to try new things, so when I was visiting town and heard about a hang-gliding facility. The services and prices were in my price range. Being up in the sky was so freeing, I highly recommend being able to see the view from that high once in your life."

Sky level: Moderate

Derrek Jones: " One of the things I love about Harry and Harriet's is the many availabilities of those of varying skills. I'm more advanced in terms of skydiving as it's one of my hobbies, but many places require you to dive with a professional. Here, I can be free to do flips, tricks, and fly solo without a professional."

Sky Level: Pro

Jimmy Lucks: "'I had my first time skydiving for my 30 birthday and I had the time of my life. I was a bit worried about my safety but being able to skydive with a professional really helped put me at ease. Having the variability to choose if I wanted to fly solo or with a professional really helped me make the giant leap."

Sky Level: Novice

Jenny Sand: “If you're looking for a fun activity to cross of your bucket list for a reasonable price with lots of variability, Harry and Harriet’s is the place to be.”

Sky level: Novice